

RELIEF JOBS FOR 165,000 MEN IN OHIO

First of 76,000 Get Work by Next Monday.

FEDERAL FUNDS

Columbiana is Not Listed Among 12 Counties.

By The Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 16. — By next Monday morning thousands of erstwhile jobless men—the first of 76,000—will be at work in Ohio under the administration's new relief program, and the state's plans are fast taking shape for the rest of Ohio's tentative allotment of 165,000 jobs, state and federal relief officials said today.

Out of a conference of governors, mayors and welfare leaders from all over the nation with the civil works administration and the President, came these developments:

The number of men to be taken off relief rolls and employed almost immediately at regular rates will be determined by Adjutant General Frank D. Henderson, Ohio civil works administrator, when he returns to Columbus late today.

12 Counties on Preferred List

Harry L. Hopkins, administrator of federal emergency relief and the civil works administration, tentatively allotted Ohio 165,000 jobs on the basis of 3,000,000 jobs over the nation, computed on the ratio of 75 per cent for population and 25 per cent for relief loads of the states.

Henderson and Governor George White hope to put the first of 76,000 men at work in 12 counties by the first of the week under a program already approved by the state and now awaiting approval here, Governor White, after the conference, said he expects some men may go to work "Friday or Saturday."

Ohio local administrators will meet with Henderson Sunday for a determination of how many men can be put to work in each community Monday. In more than 25 Ohio counties where programs are ready, local administrators have been appointed.

Distribution Announced
Before the announcement of Ohio's tentative allotment, Major E. O. Braught, Ohio relief director, estimated that Ohio would receive $8,000,000 a month from the $400,000,000 to be spent throughout the country.

The immediate program for 76,000 jobs, to be followed within a short time with the further relief projects, will have this distribution by counties, Braught said:

Cuyahoga (Cleveland) 22,823 jobs; Hamilton (Cincinnati) 17,700; Franklin (Columbus) 13,830; Lucas (Toledo) 7,348; Summit (Akron) 8,834; Montgomery (Dayton) 9,095; Jackson 1,284; Scioto (Portsmouth) 1,080; Stark (Canton) 595; Erie (Sandusky) 358; Tuscarawas 280; Marion 45.

For the further relief projects plans are being prepared in 26 more counties and every one of the 50 other counties has been notified to submit plans, Braught said. The first 12 counties to be taken care of in the 76,000 jobs group already have had their plans approved by the state. They represent about 45 per cent of the state's population.

Work Program Outlined
Cleaning and widening creeks, cleaning schools, courthouses and streets, maintenance of roads and similar jobs will be the task set before the men receiving the employment.

That Ohio was well in the forefront with its relief plans was a belief expressed by Governor White, who declared "we came exceptionally well prepared and I expect immediate approval by the civil works administration."

After the conference yesterday he asserted that in addition to the state's immediate program, the number of jobs on public improvement in Ohio could be brought to 100,000 or 150,000 within 20 to 30 days providing the money is supplied fast enough.

As about 200,000 families are on relief lists in Ohio now, the governor said, the employment of 100,000 to 150,000 men within a month would "reduce the numbers now on relief to a figure which would constitute but a minor problem. All I need is to be informed that the money will be forthcoming."

BANDIT FLEES IN GUN BATTLE

John Dillinger Shoots Way Past Police Net.

By The Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—John Dillinger, desperado wanted as the leader of a band of Indiana bank robbers, vanished today after a daring escape from a carefully-laid police net amid a fusillade of shots.

Sixteen Indiana state policemen and Chicago detectives chased Dillinger, accompanied by a woman and another man, for several miles through the northwestern section of the city last night after "botting" up his automobile in front of a physician's office.

But in the end it was the police who were forced to retreat in confusion as bullets from a machine gun in his car poured forth from a porthole and spattered windshields of the cars of his pursuers. Meanwhile, shots from police guns proved ineffective against the bullet-proof glass of Dillinger's car.

Dillinger came into prominence as a dangerous character last October 12 when men identified as escaped convicts from the Michigan City, Ind., prison delivered him from the Allen county, Ohio, jail at Lima after slaying Sheriff Jess Sarber.

Since then police have credited him with leading the outlaws in a number of Indiana bank robberies. They have also been identified as the gang that raided two police stations in Indiana and fled with guns and ammunition.

THIEVES ENTER GAS STATIONS

Midway River Road, Pennzill Harvey Avenue Places Ransacked Wednesday Night.

Two East Liverpool gasoline stations were robbed by burglars Wednesday night according to reports made to police today.

A small quantity of oil was taken from the River Road station of the Midway Oil company in the River road. Four or five panes of glass were broken by the culprits to force an entrance.

Nothing of value was taken by burglars who broke the glass in the oil room door at the Pennzill station in Harvey avenue, East End. A small office safe, left unlocked, was ransacked and an attempt was made to open a large safe in the oil room. The attempted burglary was discovered by Roland Reed, an attendant, when he reported for work today at 6 a. m.

FRIGID BLAST HOLDS VALLEY IN ITS GRIP

Coldest Nov. 16 is Recorded at Ohio River Dam. SIX ABOVE ZERO

Slowly Mounting Death Toll is Reported.

With temperatures ranging from two below zero to six above in the East Liverpool district early today, King Winter set a new record for Nov. 16, and brought the coldest November weather since 1929, officials at Ohio river dam No. 8 said.

The official low reading at the lock was six above at 5 a. m. The lowest previous reading for Nov. 16 was 26 above in 1924. The coldest wave ever recorded in November at lock No. 8 was on Nov. 30, 1929, when the thermometer fell to two above.

Unofficial readings here gave six above as the minimum at the Central, Northside and East End fire stations. The lowest temperature in the district, two below zero, was recorded at Hookstown at 6 a. m.

Local coal dealers and gas company officials said that the usual cold weather has created a large demand for fuel, but there is no danger of a shortage. The gas supply is strong, and coal dealers are well supplied to meet any demands, they said.

Little Hope for Relief

The Associated Press said the cold wave from the far north country continued to hold much of the North American continent in its grip, bringing with it a slowly mounting death toll, while the storm-tossed North Atlantic held the fate of the crew of the British freighter Saxibly.

Reports from Valentia Ireland, told of ships rushing to the rescue of the 27 members of the crew of the ship, only to find no trace of them on reaching their last reported position. Before the ship was abandoned, it told of the men abandoning ship. Meanwhile the British freighter St. Quentin, minus its rudder, reported it in no immediate danger.

Meanwhile the weather man held out little hope for relief from the frigid blast which affected the entire country from the Rocky Mountains eastward, after recording new lows for this time of the year in various parts of the midwest, including five below at Bemidj, Minn.

Zero Weather in Ohio

Sub zero weather came to Ohio today.

In one of the most protracted early winter cold snaps in years, the mercury dipped to two below zero near Mount Vernon and all but reached the nothing mark at several other points.

Cleveland, where three hard snows have fallen within a little more than a week, was visited with another hard fall this morning as the temperatures slid to 12 below.

It was 5 above just outside of Youngstown and only three degrees warmer in the city. Weather officials there said the reading was the lowest for a Nov. 16, by sixteen degrees. A temperature of 13 above at Columbus was only one degree above the coldest Nov. 16 in the capital city's history.

There was a bit of consolation, however, in the weather bureau's prediction of warmer tomorrow. Rain and more snow is likely to follow the rise.

Residents of the Lake Erie islands near Sandusky were short of fuel as rough weather made it impossible to get coal to the islands. Usually the early part of November is mild enough to give the islanders time to stock up with fuel.

Three Men Asphyxiated.

A coroner's verdict of "accidental death by monoxide poisoning" ended an investigation of the deaths of three Lebanon, Ind., truck drivers whose bodies were found yesterday in a small hotel adjoining a filling station at Greenview Center, near Norwalk. Their deaths brought to six the number who have died as the result of the cold wave.

The three men, Elmer Anderson, Merle L. Coffin and Albert Biggs, were asphyxiated by the fumes of a gas stove.

At Steubenville last night eight-year-old Victoria Boggs was critically injured when she huddled close to a gas stove and her clothing caught fire.

Six Dead in Pennsylvania.

Pennsylvania counted a total of six dead during the past two days, with a new storm sweeping the northwestern section of the state, already buried under a heavy snow fall. Two hunters died in Ohio from over-exertion.

One death from exposure was reported in St. Paul. Detroit shivers with 8 above zero, and thousands of homeless sought shelter in Chicago, which broke a 50-year record for November with 10 above zero Wednesday.

Deaths that the death toll would be increased by the loss of two coast guardsmen in a picket boat on Lake Superior were dissipated when they were reported safe on Madeline island.

Mild weather prevailed on the Pacific coast.

HOW PRESIDENT WILL SPEND THANKSGIVING

Following his annual Thanksgiving custom, President Roosevelt goes to his home in Warm Springs, Georgia, to bask in the hospitality of his many friends and neighbors there. This year he will go, for the first time, as President of the United States. On last Thanksgiving, he was President-elect when he paid his visit.

The pictures show the President in the round of life he enjoys at Warm Springs. There is always a huge crowd awaiting his arrival to cheer him and his family. He is shown with Mrs. Roosevelt and his daughter, Mrs. Curtis Dall, receiving the good wishes of the natives.

An aerial view of the President's home is shown and he is pictured, with Mrs. Dall, in his favorite spot before the fireplace. He usually gets in a bit of swimming in the indoor pool, and Mrs. Dall shares his enthusiasm for this sport. One of the projects closest to the heart of the President is the Warm Springs Foundation, where children suffering from infantile paralysis are treated. Mr. Roosevelt never fails to bring the little patients a word of cheer. And for his entertainment, the Georgia Fiddlers always call on him for a bit of serenading in the true Georgia style.

The Rebecca Griscum chapter was one of 2,479 in the country which held special meetings Wednesday honoring Mrs. Magna, who has been chairman of the finance committee in charge of raising funds to build Constitution hall at Washington, D. C. The 160,000 members of the organization made contributions and pledges for liquidation of the amount still due on the hall, which was completed at a cost of over $1,500,000. The hall was dedicated in 1929.

At the Rebecca Griscum meeting the members made bags to hold pennies for the Constitution hall fund. Songs composed by Mrs. Magna were sung by Mrs. James K. Moffat, Mrs. V. E. McEldowney and Mrs. Adam McWilliam. Tea was served by Mrs. George M. Wilhelm, the table being decorated with a lighted birthday cake.

On Monday members of the chapter will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Wilson Hepplewhite in St. Clair avenue. Each member is requested to bring yarn and sewing equipment to make Christmas presents, which will be sent to Ellis Island.

Four Die, Dozen Injured on First Day of Hunting Season

Bitter Cold Reduces Number of Nimrods; Half Million Licenses Issued.

By The Associated Press.
The second day of the rabbit and pheasant hunting season of Ohio finds one dead from gunshot wounds, two from heart attacks, one killed in a railroad crossing accident after a hunting trip, and a dozen or more injured.

The dead: Robert Snodgrass of Lima, killed by the accidental discharge of his shotgun while he was hunting in Auglaize county.

Ed Pendium, 52, Greenville insurance salesman, by a fatal heart attack while trudging across the snow near Celina.

Gus Artz, 67, retired banker of Plymouth, by a fatal heart attack near his home.

John Joseph Noonan, 71, of Columbus, killed when he drove his automobile into the path of a train near Delaware as he returned from a hunting trip.

The bitter cold of the first day was reported to have reduced the number of nimrods, although half a million licenses were taken out. The pheasant season lasts today and the rabbit season until Jan. 1, with a daily bag limit for each hunter of five rabbits and two male pheasants.

In Hancock county deputy game wardens were active after hearing reports that hunters were boasting of "getting away with" game violations. Ten men, five from Toledo, were fined for game law violations.

130 SHAKEN UP IN RAIL WRECK

Seven Pullman Cars Derailed South of Worthington.

By The Associated Press.
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 16.—One hundred and thirty passengers on the Buffalo-Cincinnati express, of the Big Four railroad, were shaken up when seven Pullman cars were derailed south of Worthington, near here, early today. None of the injured required even first aid treatment from a corps of doctors and nurses who were rushed to the scene of the wreck.

Breakage of a rail on the line was blamed, by officials of the road, for the derailment, following a preliminary investigation.

A relief train was dispatched to the wreck and the passengers brought to Columbus, where they were given accommodations on another train. The flyer was made up of 11 cars. The locomotive and four of the cars passed over the break and were halted about a mile down the track.

Two of the seven Pullmans overturned and the others rested in precarious angles along the right of way. Only 15 car windows were broken. Many of the passengers were still asleep in their berths when Conductor John Dean and his crew went through the wrecked cars.

MORGENTHAU RULES FRIDAY

New Cabinet Officer Ready to Replace Woodin.

By The Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—A new cabinet officer who says he will give unwavering support to President Roosevelt's gold-buying plan, and who is a close friend of a leading commodity dollar advocate, takes full control of the treasury tomorrow.

But officials continued to deny vigorously that the designation of Henry Morgenthau Jr., as undersecretary and the unlimited leave of absence granted to William H. Woodin, secretary, meant any schism between the latter and the President.

The explanation remained that Woodin needed to go to Tucson, Arizona, in search of rest and health; that Dean Acheson, who had been undersecretary, resigned simply to let Morgenthau take the second-ranking position in the treasury so he could assume charge while Woodin was on leave.

Woodin asked to resign, giving health as the reason and adding that "every policy" of the President "has had and still has my devoted support." Mr. Roosevelt turned down the resignation, proposed the leave, and said "we need you back again."

Search for British Freighter Saxibly Abandoned. NO TRACE FOUND

Report Impossible for Lifeboats to Ride Rough Seas.

By The Associated Press.
CALENTIA, Irish Free State, Nov. 16.—The S. E. Manchester Regiment abandoned her 24-hour search for the stricken freighter Saxibly today shortly after the great liner Berengaria and the Dutch steamer Boschdyk were forced to quit their rescue efforts.

Abandonment of the quest by the Manchester Regiment was announced in a wireless message in which the ship reported she had sighted no wreckage and was afraid it was absolutely impossible for lifeboats to survive such weather as she was encountering.

With the Manchester Regiment's withdrawal from the scene, hope was generally abandoned for the little cargo ship Saxibly and her human freight of 27 souls.

LAKE FREIGHTER STRANDED

Norwegian Vessel Flies Helpless in Waves at South Haven, Mich.

SOUTH HAVEN, Mich., Nov. 16.—The stranded Norwegian freighter Flaks, high aground just south of the entrance to the Harbor here, rocked helplessly to the swell of the waves today as arrival of a rescue tug and lighter from Chicago was awaited.

The ship, a 225-foot vessel, heavily laden with pulpwood, shoved its nose into a sand bar yesterday when it missed the mouth of the harbor because of the heavy seas. Calming seas indicated today it was in no danger for the time being.

The 17 officers and men of the crew, who repeatedly declined yesterday to abandon the ship when coast guards offered to take them to safety ashore, remained aboard.

Free to Sufferers from Attacks
An amazing treatment, which uses state has been remarkably successful in relieving them of attacks, is now offered to sufferers by R. Leggett, Apt. 67, 123 E. Wright Street, Milwaukee, Wis. Send name, age and address and he will send a generous supply of this splendid treatment free.

"All my friends notice that the last pimple is gone — naturally, I am proud of my clear skin"

WHY shouldn't she be happy... it is every one's right to have a clear skin... often it helps to hold old friends and make new ones.

What causes pimples and boils? Usually it is due to an abnormal condition of the system. What will correct this trouble? More red-blood-cells filled with that vital substance called hemo-globin (skin and tissue purifier) is what is usually required.

What does hemo-globin in the blood do? It carries the purifying oxygen—so essential to the system's proper functioning—from the lungs to all parts of the body—over to the skin. Also, it throws off the poisonous carbon dioxide.

And S.S.S. restores red-cells and hemo-globin to the blood. Besides, it tones up the system... gives you an appetite... improves the digestion. Thousands have proven it... modern medical research has proven it... you can prove it, too.

Take S.S.S. just before meals. No need to change your diet... S.S.S. will not interfere with any other medicine you may be taking. You will be happy with the beneficial results obtained. Start taking it today. At all drug stores in two convenient sizes. The larger size is more economical.

2 about Cigarettes

There are 6 types of home-grown tobaccos that are best for cigarettes

BRIGHT TOBACCOS
U. S. Types 11, 12, 13, 14.
BURLEY TOBACCO
U. S. Type 31.
SOUTHERN MARYLAND TOBACCO
U. S. Type 32.

U. S. Type 11 is produced in the Piedmont Belt of Virginia and part of North Carolina.

U. S. Type 12 is produced in eastern North Carolina.

U. S. Type 13 grows in South Carolina.

U. S. Type 14 is produced mostly in southern Georgia—a few million pounds in northern Florida and Alabama.

U. S. Type 31 includes what is called White Burley tobacco. It was first produced by George Webb in 1864. It is light in color and body, and is milder than the Burley used for pipes.

U. S. Type 32, Maryland tobacco, is noted for its "burn". In this respect Maryland excels most other tobaccos.

These are the kinds of home-grown tobaccos used for making Chesterfield Cigarettes.

Then Chesterfield adds aromatic Turkish tobacco to give just the right seasoning or spice.

Chesterfield ages these tobaccos for 30 months

—2½ years—to make sure that they are milder and taste better.

TWO HELD FOR AUTO STEALING

Akron Pair, Charged With Theft of Salem Car, Returned to Lisbon for Trials.

LISBON—Everett Streid, 18 and Harold Brooks, 15, both of Akron, arrested by New York state police and returned to this county by extradition by Chief of Police R. N. Stoffer of Salem for stealing an automobile owned by Edward G. Votaw, have been held for court by Justice of the Peace M. K. Zimmerman.

The boys are charged with having stolen an automobile at Akron for the purpose of driving to Jamestown, N. Y., where Streid has relatives. The machine was wrecked as the boys were entering Salem. They then are charged with having gone to Salem and stole the Votaw car and continued to New York.

They were arrested, and turned over to federal authorities at Buffalo, N. Y., and the latter then informed the Salem police of the capture. Bond was set at $1,500 in each case, and in default the two were committed to the county jail.

PLAN RELIEF FOR EAST END

Churches and Other Agencies to Aid Needy Persons During Winter Months.

Preparations are being made for carrying on relief work in East End during the winter months. A considerable amount of the work will be done by the various church societies, and a small percentage through private agencies. Arrangements are being made to provide many needy families with Thanksgiving dinners and baskets at Christmas time, church officials said.

Many persons will have recourse to the municipal welfare bureau downtown. Clothing and other articles are being made by the East End Unemployment league sewing circle, and other civic groups are expected to support relief activities. It is unlikely that the East End soup kitchen will be reopened, city officials said.

FIRE HAZARDS LOCATED HERE

81 Percent of 200 Structures Faulty Inspectors Say.

Eighty-one per cent of the 200 buildings inspected here Wednesday during East Liverpool's second one-day fire inspection campaign, were found defective, it was reported at the banquet last night in the Travelers' hotel by D. P. Ely of Columbus, president of the Ohio Fire Prevention association.

Structures that were inspected included churches, schools, factories, mercantile establishments and the city hospital, Ely said. The inspectors issued recommendation for changes to the owners in all buildings found defective during the inspection.

Scouts Aid Campaign
The 20 inspectors and 20 Boy Scouts who conducted the campaign were guests at the banquet, at which Lee C. Cooper presided. Sixty members of the city's service clubs, Chamber of Commerce and other citizens joined in the affair.

The principle address was given by Harry K. "Smoky" Rogers of Chicago, who also spoke to high grade and parochial school children in the high school auditorium on fire prevention Wednesday morning.

Rogers stressed the importance of individual watchfulness in fire prevention. He pointed out that 15,000 lives are lost each year in the United States through fires.

He illustrated his address with many personal experiences he had as a member of Chicago fire departments.

Service Clubs Join
Attorney Blaine H. Cochran sang "Without a Song," accompanied by Mrs. Danks Cochran. Two piano duets were given by Misses Ruth and Jean Cooper. Mr. Cooper introduced members of the committee from the Chamber of Commerce, which arranged for the fire inspection and Robert Boyce and R. C. Heddlston, presidents of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, respectively.

Joseph Betz, president of the Chamber of Commerce, spoke briefly, expressing his thanks to all the organizations participating in the fire inspection campaign.

Join the Red Cross

If East Liverpool expects to attain its goal of 1,500 members in the annual Red Cross roll call, about 1,500 persons must be enrolled during the remaining three days of the week's campaign which will close Saturday night. Exclusive of today's reports, only 245 members, who have contributed $33.95, have been listed.

Rev. A. H. O'Brien, of the First Baptist church, chairman of the canvass which is in charge of 60 women workers, has renewed his appeal for support of the mother of mankind whose program of mercy should be supported by East Liverpool as well as other chapters in Ohio and the nation. He has stressed the fact that home service and civilian relief work are dependent upon the chapter's share of the contributions.

If public health nursing is to be provided during 1934, the Red Cross must contribute $540 toward the salary. The rest will be paid by the City Federation of Women's Clubs through the sale of Christmas health seals, and the city. The Red Cross chapter's share depends upon the enrollment of not less than 1,050 members.

East Liverpool, which recalls the splendid service performed by the Red Cross during peace periods as well as wartime, has never failed to respond to appeals for support of this humanitarian cause. It is not too late to contribute. Enroll at one of the downtown or East End booths or call the Y. M. C. A. headquarters requesting a canvasser to seek your enrollment, or, better still, mail your contribution to the chairman.

Odors from Louisiana

Politics in Louisiana evidently have reached that advanced state in which even the slightest agitation produces an olfactory shock. There may be states subject to more systematic corruption, but certainly none with a more malodorous result.

Taxpayers are financing a senate committee to investigate the condition. The committee's specific objective is election of John H. Overton to the United States senate. Overton is a Huey Long protégé. Senator Long's enemies charge him with illegal tactics in the election.

In view of the public nature of the investigation, remarks by John G. Holland, the committee's "investigator," are of general interest. Holland has been prodding Louisiana politics for a year. He should know where the rottenest places are.

Holland charged the committee the other day with trying to cover up corruption in Louisiana. He has ample evidence, he claims, but the committee does not want it to be used. "This committee came down here to close this case and not to investigate," he declared.

He further stated that Senator Connally, staunch Texas Democrat and chairman of the investigating committee, instructed him to do nothing which the chairman didn't want done. Apparently, Holland's patience has been exhausted. He has been left holding the bag on a snipe hunt.

The nation at large made up its mind about Huey Long many months ago. Nothing the investigating committee could reveal would outdo the people's suspicions of Long's political methods. It follows that if the committee does nothing the suspicion will continue.

The senate is supposed to be jealous of its prestige. That jealousy prompted authorization to proceed against Huey Long's organization in Louisiana. Is it possible that even a Democrat imagines the upper house's prestige can be protected by trying to disregard a stench which has penetrated every corner of the country?

Samples

It is with more than idle curiosity that people are wondering about the weather this week. If below-freezing temperatures and heavy snow are samples, presented in the first half of November to given an idea of what is coming in December, January, February and March, the hard-winter prophets finally have rung the bell.

The first ton of coal either has disappeared or is being consumed in shovelfuls. With the exception of a few warm days in October, most furnaces have been in action constantly for close to 30 days. There has been as much real winter weather before the middle of November as there was during November and December last year.

Although there is scant justification to hope for a respite, human nature demands some sort of comfort after so long a succession of open winters. It will not be easy to make the adjustment to the old-fashioned variety. Nevertheless, November days are going by rapidly. Soon there will be nothing to do but accept the fact of a cold winter philosophically.

If that becomes necessary, a spot of silver lining may be discovered in the existence of thousands of shiny sleds which never have been used. Perhaps this winter their disappointed owners will have a chance to get rusty runners shiny with constant use. It is scarcely adequate compensation at that for the amateur stokers watching that little pile of coal growing smaller and smaller, with no letup in sight.

Mr. Henderson's Position

Efforts to bring about international security and peace cannot be described without frequent mention of Arthur Henderson, one of the solid figures of British statesmanship. Although little known on this side of the Atlantic, his work and influence testify to great ability and character.

It was most fitting that Mr. Henderson be appointed chairman of the Geneva disarmament conference. He is, perhaps, the outstanding individual associated with the disarmament movement. If there was honor to be gained from leading the conference, it belonged rightfully to him.

The sad state of the conference is revealed fully, therefore, in Mr. Henderson's discouragement, expressed frankly on Tuesday in a threat to resign the chairmanship. He has been the driving force behind the conference during its nearly two years of existence. Its purpose represents one of his great ambitions.

There is no purpose, he confesses, in staying on at Geneva under the pretense of being interested in world disarmament unless delegates give him the support to which he is entitled. Germany has withdrawn. Italy has reduced its delegates to the status of observers. Other delegates seem willing to admit their helplessness.

Mr. Henderson's desperation is only a miniature of the hopelessness which has moved into the hearts of millions of people under every flag. They too, were audacious enough to believe that disarmament could be accomplished. Like him, they see no use now trying to go on unless the cause is supported.

Instead of the spreading aura of peace which they hoped to achieve, fear has been struck into their hearts by the shadow of Mars in every capital of the world. A few years ago they admitted war might come again. Now they are forced by circumstances to admit it will come again. Mr. Henderson is not without sympathy.

Do We Want Paternalism?

A well reasoned and clearly stated argument by Dale Miller in The Texas Weekly against the effect of the national recovery program found in prohibition against new enterprise contributes materially to intelligent discussion of President Roosevelt's new deal plans.

Texas, Mr. Miller points out, is slave to King Cotton. Intelligent leaders have been seeking wider latitude in farm products for years, to dissolve the bondage. At the same time, the state has been seeking to overcome the handicap of low industrial activity.

During the last year, both objectives have been blocked off by activities of the federal government. It has seen the government lend farmers money to plant cotton, pay them outright for plowing it up and plan ahead to limit future production.

The effect has been to decrease the amount of the cotton crop, without increasing the amount of any other crop. King Cotton's rule has been made, at the same time, more severe and less enlightened. Under-consumption, not over-production, is the source of the south's grievances, Mr. Miller insists.

Industrial activity has been halted by the same freezing grip of federal paternalism, he argues. The national recovery act tends to prevent Texas from developing industry. "Any feature of the recovery program which tends to cast industry in its present mold and discourage expansion moves in contravention with civilization itself and impedes its progress," he argues.

This is a brief presentation of a fundamental issue developed by recent circumstances. In the past, Americans have progressed by making new developments. Frontiers have been brought under control, farmers have become industrialists and hunters have become farmers. The vast territory of Texas still includes a frontier, in a modified sense. Is its development to be arrested by enforcement of theories based on paternalism as the best device for helping all the people?

Dissolved

With no extraordinary fuss or bother, Premier Mussolini has abolished the Italian parliamentary system. It seems ridiculous, easy, which is probably explained by the fact that it never is hard to dispose of a useless member.

Henceforth, national legislative powers will be vested in a system of trade and commercial guilds, whose representatives will serve as directors of an Italian corporate state, with Premier Mussolini as chairman of the board.

The purpose is to set up capitalism on a new basis. There are three phases of capitalism, the premier believes: dynamic, static and decadent. Italy has been in the last stage for more than half a century. The new scheme will start the cycle again.

Brief reviews of such a momentous move cannot take account of its full significance. Perhaps the conclusion from a prolonged study would not differ greatly from snap judgment, which is to the effect that monarchy, or control by an individual, is the best form of government as long as it has the advantage of an honest, intelligent leader. Long live Mussolini!

How to Shoot at Men

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 16.—G. H. Howland, of Miami, who knows human nature, is supervising a small gang of "short term" city prisoners, clearing brush and rubbish from a city lot.

Driving an automobile when intoxicated is the most frequent offense among the prisoners, all young.

"Do they often run away?" "No," says Mr. Howland, "not often, and I can usually tell. This young fellow that I am keeping near me," pointing to a pale-faced boy about 20, swinging his heavy grubbing tool with savage energy, "was fixing to run away this morning. I could see it. I talked to him and told him he would only get picked up, and have to stay in a cell 60 days."

Mr. Howland, who carries a heavy automatic pistol, says: "No, I wouldn't shoot any young fellow only guilty of a misdemeanor. I might fire a shot over the water," pointing to the bay, "to scare him. I wouldn't hit him."

"But in county and state gangs of convicts convicted of more serious offenses, running away means getting killed. First the guard sends a rifle bullet close to the running man's legs, so that he will hear the bullet. Then he puts a bullet in the ground close to his feet, with a second warning. If he doesn't stop then, he kills him."

"Yes, these boys would rather be here working in the sunshine and they are allowed $2.50 a day which comes off their fine. That one with nothing on above the waist wanted a sun bath. He had had it, and what a sunbath."

The Frog's Ear

New York's Academy of Science learns that a new living ear drum was grown in a frog made of skin from the back of another frog.

Scientists are interested, because the skin from a strange frog, in the environment of an ear drum that had been destroyed, turned to ear drum tissue and functioned normally.

Anti-vivisectionists will weep for "the poor frog" although that creature never knew what happened, or suffered pain.

Suppose it had been possible to do the same for the great Beethoven, whose life was made miserable by deafness that prevented hearing his own music, and hampered his genius.

Hearing and happiness, for the giant Beethoven, would have been worth the lives of many frogs.

The Bible distinctly says that all creatures are not equal, which proves that all life is important, but, says St. Matthew, every sparrow that falls to the ground is counted. "Fear ye not, therefore, ye are of more value than many sparrows."

If we are worth more than many sparrows, how many frogs must we be worth?

We Need More People

The tide of United States immigration has turned. At present more people are leaving the United States than coming into it, and the small quota of permissions allowing foreigners to come is not nearly filled. That is a bad sign for the United States.

This country was not built by aborigines, but by ambitious foreign men and women with courage to cross the ocean and come to an unknown land.

The first and second generation of immigrants, not to supercilious fifth or tenth generation, made this country. Recently we said to foreigners:

"We don't want you except in small numbers." They now reply:

"Thanks, we don't care to come." This country would dwindle rapidly if that should continue. With our millions of acres uncultivated, millions of bushels of wheat, pigs, steers, chickens that we cannot sell; millions of second-hand automobiles unsold; possible millions of new cars for which there is no market.

What we need is people, ten millions more of them now, and fifty million more later.

Some, ignorant, think more population must mean lower wages. When United States population was under four millions, there was only one mechanic in the country able to earn as much as a dollar a day, all year around. They did better than that in 1929 with 123 millions in the country.

The trouble is that we have more of everything than the people can consume, so evidently we need more people to help us out, as consumers.

New York Day By Day

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Fish markets — along the Seine, Billingsgate and Fulton street—have always interested me. Chiefly, I think, because of the harmony and discord of smell. Fulton Market in this musical metaphor is a cat walking across a piano. A blare of odors.

The stranger there, if he has a keen nose, can disentangle the strains of the mass effect, just as a musical lover is able to detect himself to the symphony and follow the steady notes of an individual "cello." He knows the haddock from the cod several stalls away.

But the hardened Fulton Market fishmonger—and you cannot talk to one five minutes without being told Al Smith began life there—smells nothing. His nose becomes atrophied. After several years he becomes entirely immune from fishy spin-drifts. How wonderful nature is!

It is at dusk that the aromas fairly assault the senses. For men in high-heeled rubber boots begin flushing stalls for next day. The gutters run with chopped odors, some already in a state of decay. Another thing I learned. Fishmongers as a class are fond of fish as food.

At 5 a. m. big hotel and restaurant buyers wander in and out of Fulton's rows of dead fish. Nothing can look so dead as a fish. It is difficult to believe these beautiful specimens along with the comic monstrosities with shiny green whiskers have ever sported gallantly in the sea, making love, building homes and seeing to it the world is generously supplied with their flabby corpses.

She is one of those vague hovering women who stands at street corners when Broadway becomes an empty tunnel of light. She seemed bewildered, minced shyly toward me, stopped, then came on. Rather breathlessly she said: "Walk toward the subway with me, please. There's a policeman down the block. I'm not what you think although I was about to be." She went down the subway steps. I went on wondering! (Copyright, 1933, McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Behind The News In Washington And Wall Street

By GEORGE DURNO

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The administration is gambling heavily on the return of hard liquor to give recovery the same forward jump that beer did.

Heavy revenues will accrue. Powerful trading points with other nations will become a matter of figures instead of words. Many businesses will arise as from the dead.

But what the fevered brows in Washington are counting on most is the psychological effect. They look (and hope earnestly) for a result of feeling of good will as a result of this abandonment of government curbs on public morals.

The date of repeal—December 5—couldn't have been picked with greater political care to do the Roosevelt administration a lot of good.

Winter's icy grip will be well clutched around the unfortunate who were squeezed when the bottom dropped out.

Beer mellowed the nation into a spirit of good fellowship at an earlier crucial period. Those in the saddle feel sure a full return of alcoholic liberty will smooth the impending crisis.

Per Bottle

One of the knottiest problems confronting Agricultural Adjustment Administration authorities in their formulation of a distillery and brewery code is the very high price of bona fide hard liquor.

The whole purpose of repeal will be defeated if whiskey is so high when legally obtainable as to be out of the reach of the man on the street.

Thirteen years of practice on cheap bathtub gin will mean continued business for the bootleggers unless the bottled-in-bond is reduced materially.

"Beverage Administrator" Harris E. Willingham, in charge of the code, admits the situation is his big puzzle. He says he is going to take care of it but refuses yet to say exactly how.

The Brain Trusters have evolved a scheme to set up a government corporation to dispense all liquor after repeal's effectiveness. This corporation would take over the output of all licensed distillers and distribute it, collecting all taxes and cutting the states in for their shares.

This may be the solution.

Moscow

Resumption of normal relations with Russia is not going to catch this country asleep.

All through the years that we have remained aloof from Moscow, the State Department has kept a lot of bright young men in training on the Russian situation "just in case." They can all run up and down the Steppes in the native language.

One man who comes to mind resigned a commission in the army and asked for a career job in the diplomatic corps. He said Russia interested him most. He was sent promptly to a Russian school in Paris.

Work

Public works administration, as nearly as can be ascertained, has about 500,000 men now actually drawing its money from pay envelopes.

Accurate figures of a fair nature could be made public but Secretary Ickes refuses. He holds those now available are minimum figures and he's waiting for an accurate check on the maximum.

PWA publicity experts pleaded with Ickes with tears in their eyes over the past few weeks to put the available totals out. Their reason was that one week jumped 23 per cent over the previous and the next showed a further increase of 19 per cent.

But Ickes said no. He explained that men were being put to work on federal enterprises in Alaska, Hawaii and the like and the country would have to wait until they were in to be added to domestic totals.

We are able to report one figure. There are slightly in excess of 103,000 men working on public roads over and above those employed on the old 50-50 basis between government and state.

Next in importance as a PWA employer is the Army Corps of Engineers. Third ranks the Navy. Non-federal activities are still largely not activities.

De-looping

National defense and commercial travel both are going to get a break out of the President's latest scheme of putting several million men to work immediately for three months under direction of Relief Administrator Hopkins.

Among the many non-competitive jobs to be created are those involving improvement of airports all over the country.

Many of our landing fields are used daily at the risk of what an aviator calls a ground loop.

The Washington, D. C., airport, one of the busiest in the nation, is a shining example. Such internationally known pilots as Wiley Post and Amelia Earhart have branded its condition disgraceful.

Congress has refused to appropriate money for improvements on these fields because they aren't absolutely necessary.

The 3,000 county administrators of the new Civil Works Administration have been instructed particularly to look out for possible airport development work.

Pastemaster

"Wild Bill" Lyons of Colorado, who, by his own admission, is a tough two-gunned man from the west, tends door at the office of Postmaster General Farley.

The other day he was observed, not putting notices on his six-shooter, but pasting up clippings about his boss.

Now they call Lyons the Pastemaster General.

Notes

Happy days are here for the Anti-Saloon league. In the past few years their once golden trend has turned into a buffalo nickel.

Now that they have an issue again after 13 years the guiding spirits anticipate a welcome shower of money and they don't care if it's in greenbacks. . . . It is rumored President Roosevelt will ask congress to amend the alphabet on account of the ever-growing number of emergency relief organizations.

NRA, RFC, AAA, FERA, CCC, PWA, CWA—or are you listening?

By JAMES McMULLIN

Most of the big New York banks have a knotty diplomatic problem on their hands. They have to cut down the number of their directors to conform to the Glass act and are trying to decide which resignations to ask for.

The resignations of investment bankers will be automatic but that by no means solves the riddle. When you ask a corporation officer to retire you run the risk of losing his account, but in some cases it just can't be helped. Many directors have proteges in the banks and their fate is also in doubt.

The Chase and Central Hanover can chuckle up their sleeves at the mental anguish of some of their fellows. They did their pruning early.

Mellon

New York insiders hear that Uncle Andy Mellon has been trying to stick his spoke into the government's wheel again and the government is plenty annoyed.

Uncle Andy personally attended a meeting of the Pittsburgh Clearing House Association for the first time in years for the specific purpose of killing off the RFC preferred stock plan in that city. He succeeded all too well. Pittsburgh is the only important community which refuses to have anything to do with Mr. Jesse Jones.

Some New York bankers admire Mellon's nerve. They're not so sure about his judgment. The government hasn't thought of a comeback yet but that doesn't mean it won't.

The Sunlit Road

By TOM T. JONES

There was a time when East Liverpool had no prison in which to place those who had violated the law. What was done with those needing to be taken into custody in years following the initial settlement of the later Pottery City does not now appear. Indeed, in all of the existing records, and there were no newspapers published within its confines until the early sixties, and this departure was suspended some time thereafter, there is nothing to indicate where and how those who violated the edicts of food form and demeanor were maintained while in the process of momentary punishment.

It must have been that for a long period, until the time when a village statute was given the community in 1834 that the sheriff of the county had jurisdiction over the territory hereabouts bordering upon the Ohio river in the same manner in which the same official now looks after "rural sections. It may have been that for any flagrant law violation, the guilty were enabled to continue their liberty until the New Lisbon official had been duly notified and found occasion to apprehend such persons following the issuance of warrants for them as is done when a capital crime has been committed.

But there must have been some sort of a near prison maintained some time after the mayors of East Liverpool began to function as such. It is the memory of Henry C. Goodwin of West Sixth street that when his father, the late John Goodwin, served as mayor of East Liverpool in 1860 there was no place in which apprehended persons could be taken for momentary confinement.

In the 26 years following the incorporation of the then hamlet as a village, 1834 to 1860, seventeen different men had held the mayoralty of the community. Some of these had served several terms of one year in succession. Mr. Goodwin said recently that even so late as 1863, the summer of which was long remembered hereabouts by reason of the General Morgan raid, there was no structure utilized for the apprehension of law violators here.

Needed After War.

It is his further memory that upon that day when great care was taken to keep soldiers in and about the town from obtaining intoxicating liquors that some of the civilians who were taken from the streets were thrust into the straw-sheds of some of the older potteries when they were discovered in a condition in which they were unable to care for themselves.

There was a time, he recalled, in which men, inebriated, were allowed to lie in ditches or along the curbs of the street where they had fallen when unable to proceed farther. He declared that in those early days there was often the spectacle of such personages lying helpless in this manner in the open.

Perhaps one of the earliest prisons which was erected in East Liverpool was the one-story frame structure which was built on the present site of the city hall at East Third and Market streets. Mr. Goodman said it was one which had slanting roofs that gave towards the east and the west with the entrance upon its northern side and which faced East Third street.

This building was known as the "Callaboose" or "Caboose" as it came to be facetiously called by those referring to it. It had a bunk or two within it on which the incarcerated could lie while in a maudlin condition following too much acquisition of early day liquor. The interior also was equipped with a stove since it was imperative that the place be heated sufficiently as to cause no harmful results for those who were locked within it.

The door of this old structure had a massive lock attached to it, he related, and its key was ever in the possession of the town marshal who initially was the only police officer in the village. It was in days following the return of soldiers from the Civil war that this prison came to be useful. In those days there were many persons passing through the town and some of the visitations here were a bit convivial in their nature. On occasions fighting occurred in the streets and men as a result had to be arrested and detained until their hearings could be later arranged for.

Attempt to Escape

The presence of this once a room prison in East Liverpool suggests that such confining places were to be noted in many villages in former days. It was always the custom of the arresting officer to have ready wood and coal so that a fire could be immediately started in the stove in them. On occasions these stoves were overturned by the prisoner or prisoners either accidentally or with the intention of causing annoyance to the persons who had them in keeping.

There were times also when the bedding would be fired. Straw thus used was easily fired if a match happened to be left in the clothing of the prisoners. There were exciting moments in efforts to unlock the door and prevent the suffocation of the inmates when this was done.

Much excitement also prevailed when on circus or other festival days a number might be thrust into these one-room jails. The opening of the door for the entrance of the latest prisoner would often find those inside trying to snuff themselves out as the newcomer was thrust inside. Recourse at such moments was sometimes had to the knocking backward of chairs or other things thus trying to get one with an assembled throng on the outside to watch the procedure. These were sorry spectacles when they did occur and occasionally necessitated the utilization of other rooms temporarily for the overflow of arrested men.

OHIO'S UNPAID TAXES MOUNT

State Commission to Act on $200,000,000 Peak for 1933.

By The Associated Press.
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 16.—Ohio's delinquent taxes, climbing steadily toward a $200,000,000 peak for 1933, will come under the scrutiny of a sub-committee of the state tax commission.

Meantime, the new 10-mill tax limit amendment effective Jan. 1 would wipe out tangible personal property taxes due for listing the same day, the commission moved today to ask Governor White to request the legislature to set Dec. 31 as the listing day.

The danger of losing tangible personal property taxes was pointed out by Carlton S. Dargusch, a member of the commission.

Fred Lazarus of Columbus, a lay member of the commission, asserted real estate owners able to pay their taxes are taking advantage of the current financial situation, and thus started a train of argument which brought the appointment of the sub-group to study the delinquency problem.

Probable tax receipts from liquor and their disbursement will be left to the commission decided, until after the liquor control commission reports. The tax group also decided to defer action on financing weak school districts until its next meeting in two weeks.

Germany wants to talk it over. France says not without the league being present. Germany says she will arm. France says she shouldn't, that they will keep the peace for her.

MAN QUIZZED IN BOMB BLAST

Joseph Puzzo Walks Into Police Station At Mansfield.

By The Associated Press.
MANSFIELD, O., Nov. 16.—Joseph Puzzo, 29, for whom circulars had been sent out requesting his arrest for questioning in the bombing of the Mansfield News-Journal plant, walked into the police station today accompanied by two companions.

Chief of Police William Lauer said Puzzo would be charged immediately with possession of explosives and would be questioned in connection with the bombing. Lauer said Puzzo was "the key man in the investigation."

Lauer said police established that Puzzo had in his possession a bomb similar to the one used in the newspaper bombing shortly before the explosion. The landlady at Puzzo's rooming house, the chief said, saw a bomb wrapped in brown paper in the man's room. The police determined from metal bits found in the mailing room of the newspaper plant, where the explosion occurred, that the bomb used in blowing up the plant was of the type described by the landlady and that it was wrapped in brown paper.

Puzzo came here from Marion about a year ago, Lauer said. He was released on parole from the Richland county jail, where he was serving a term for carrying concealed weapons, last summer.

"It's tough to be arrested for having money," Stephens said. "I'm a brick mason and I spent the better part of 14 years saving the money a little at a time."

URGE U. S. MILK CODE FOR CITY

Interstate Factor Involved in Border Communities.

The Ohio Milk Marketing commission, according to an Associated Press dispatch today, is contemplating asking the federal government to approve milk marketing codes for the East Liverpool and Steubenville areas. Because of the interstate factor involved, the commission, nevertheless, began a hearing on a code for the Portsmouth area. Dr. O. G. McBride, commission secretary, said that area did not include as much of an interstate factor as East Liverpool and Steubenville.

FARMERS NAME PERRY GREEN

Hiram Man New Farm Bureau President.

By The Associated Press.
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 16.—Perry L. Green, of Hiram, today held the presidential reins of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, prepared to guide the state's agricultural organization along a furrow the federation hopes will sprout a different type of taxation.

Elected by the board of trustees of the federation after the close of the 15th annual convention, Green, former secretary of agriculture under Myers Y. Cooper, succeeds L. B. Palmer of Pataskala, who rejected the prospects of reelection after serving 11 terms.

Other officers named by the trustees were A. P. Moon, Conover, re-elected vice president; Murray D. Lincoln, Columbus, re-elected secretary; and Ray Ascham, Findlay, elected treasurer.

The sowing of the seed for a new tax program was accomplished in resolutions adopted by the federation. The delegates called for enactment of a personal income tax law, re-adjustment upward of intangible taxes, adoption of a retail sales tax with exemptions on food and clothing, an increase in the excise tax on utilities, use of liquor taxes for financing old age pensions, use of state gasoline tax income exclusively for roads, and imposition of a tax of 10 cents a pound on oleomargarine and 2 cents on lard substitutes.

MANN GRATEFUL TO ROOSEVELT

Former F. O. E. National President Pardoned by resident for Lottery Violation.

By The Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Conrad H. Mann, saved from a five-months prison sentence by a pardon from President Roosevelt, returned to his Kansas City home today, happy and grateful.

Mann, president of the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce, had entered the federal house of detention to start serving the sentence for violation of the federal lottery laws in connection with enterprises of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, of which he was formerly national president. Four hours later he left the prison a free man, as a result of the President's last-minute pardon.

With tears in his eyes, Mann said he was "deeply grateful" to President Roosevelt for giving him his freedom. He waved a jovial goodbye to the prison guards as he drove away. Previously he had been described as being "all broken up."

The former Eagles head spent the night at a hotel and planned to leave sometime today for his home by airplane.

The figure again was far below the dollar value of gold at London which ranged upward from $35.14, as the dollar-which opened at $5.47—was further depreciated.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.
For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.
If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.
It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.
But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25-cent drug stores.

STATE
Human interest is rated dominant in "One Man's Journey," RKO-Radio picture starring Lionel Barrymore, which opens today at the State theater.

The film centers about one character, a country physician who achieves greatness through unselfish service, while considering himself a failure in life.

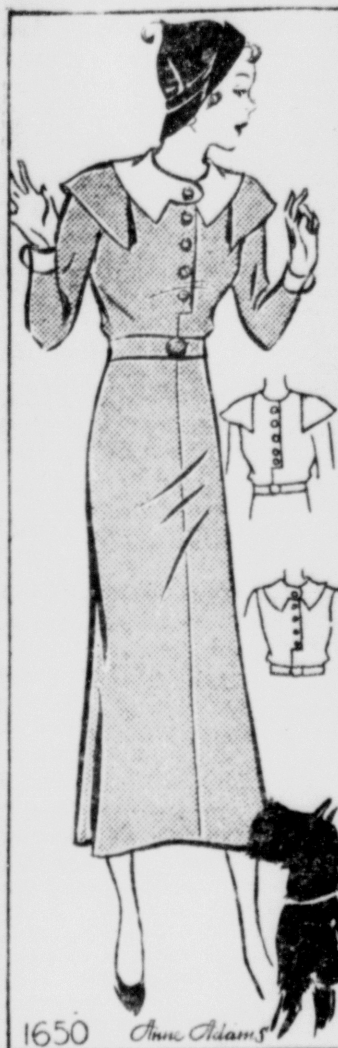

Barrymore plays this role, declared by critics to be his greatest characterization. He is supported by an exceptionally strong cast which includes Dorothy Jordan, Joel McCrea, Frances Dee, May Robson, James Bush, David Landau, Oscar Apfel, Buster Phelps and others.

While service and sacrifice of self interests is its theme, the film ends on a happy note, with Barrymore receiving a double reward for his devotion to duty. Young love interest is prominent, Miss Jordan and Bush being the principals of one romance, and McCrea and Miss Dee of another.

Your Health

By Dr. R. S. Copeland

Not so long ago lead poisoning was a common and often fatal disease. Little was known about the disease and frequently it was confused with some other ailment. I am glad to say that the disease is now rarely encountered. This is due to our increased knowledge of the disorder and the preventive measures enforced in all plants where lead is used.

When the disease occurs it is usually traced to carelessness on the part of the victim. Failure to observe the necessary precautions in the handling of lead products often results in cases of poisoning. Fortunately the disease is now easily recognized and when proper measures are taken immediately, relief and complete cure are possible.

Lead Absorbed by the Body
"Plumbism," or poisoning by lead, occurs when excessive amounts of lead are absorbed by the body. This may follow the drinking of water contaminated by lead, or the absorption of lead through the skin by contact with the metal. It may follow exposure to lead particles and the continuous inhalation of lead dust.

Workers in lead factories are protected against this menace by wearing gloves, aprons and shields. They are guarded against the lead vapors by specially constructed hoods and ventilators. This minimizes the danger of inhaling the dangerous fumes.

Face powders, cosmetics and certain dyes may result in lead poisoning if they contain an excess amount of this metal. Cases of lead poisoning from this source have been greatly decreased as most manufacturers realize this danger no longer include lead in their preparations. Never use any preparation that contains an excess of lead.

Symptoms Are Varied
The symptoms of lead poisoning are varied. As a rule, the sufferer complains of colic, constipation, loss of strength and vitality. The gums become discolored and may show a black streak. The teeth are sensitive and feel loose. There is an excessive amount of saliva in the mouth.

In more advanced cases the victim suffers from vague rheumatic pains and has abnormal mental states. Paralysis may occur. This is usually seen in the muscles of the forearm. It produces a weakness to hold the wrists up. So-called "wrist drop" is a characteristic sign of lead poisoning. The symptom

PARENTS: IMPORTANT TO USE LIQUID FORM OF LAXATIVE

(Read what doctors say)

Doctors say to use only liquid laxatives for youngsters; and preferably one with senna. A liquid laxative can be regulated as to dose. The natural laxative action of senna does not weaken the bowels.

Do you realize a laxative that works just right for you, can work havoc with a child?

That the laxative habit can be contracted at the age of six?

And that the wrong laxative can give children chronic constipation before their tenth birthday?

You wouldn't give your youngster a powerful headache powder! You shouldn't give him a violent cathartic.

Druggists report increasing sales of liquid laxatives. Mothers are rapidly discovering the advantage of the liquid form. Thousands of cases of ill-health—and half-health—in children are being cleared-up by stopping all use of any laxative of adult strength.

The preparation most favored for child use is California Syrup of Figs. It is a fruity syrup with the right amount of senna for gentle stimulation of a child's bowels. It gives the right kind of help.

Don't Give Your Children the Cathartic Habit!

If the bowels aren't moving regularly and thoroughly, do not give any medicine which drains the system dry. Give a liquid senna preparation like California Syrup of Figs. A little every day, and reduce the dose each day. At the end of one week—stop. You'll be surprised how long it will be before the bowels need any further help. It may be months.

Be sure you get the real California Syrup of Figs, with "California" on the label. If you get the right preparation, and use it the right way, you can absolutely end all worry over constant sluggish spells, bilious attacks, constipation.

All druggists keep California Syrup of Figs, ready for use. It is highly recommended for regulating children, and to undo the mischief done by habit-forming laxatives.

POTTERS AND BENGALS EACH HOLD 12 WINS

Old Foes Experts Encounter Difficulty in Picking All-America Teams

Eye 28th Struggle

Thanksgiving Day Scrap Will Mark 30th Year of Rivalry.

BY ROBERT ELLIOTT,
Sports Editor, The Review.

Two weeks from today the football teams of East Liverpool and Wellsville high schools will come together at Nicholson field in the down-river city for the 28th time in 20 years, the rivalry being one of the longest and bitterest in Ohio scholastic gridiron annals.

To make this year's game more attractive, each of the eleven has won 12 games in the long feud. Three of the 27 combats have ended in ties, the first deadlock being a 0-0 clash in 1908 when the Bengals and Potters met three times. In 1911 another scoreless tie was played, while in 1916 they fought to a 7-7 deadlock.

One thousand, two hundred bleacher seats are now being erected at Nicholson field and all will be reserved for the Turkey Day classic. The seats run between the 20-yard lines on one side and between the 40-yard stripes on the other.

The reserved ducats will go on sale next Monday, with a bloc of 500 being allotted to East Liverpool and the remaining 700 being placed on sale in Wellsville. General admission tickets are priced at 50 cents, with the reserved seat cost an extra 25 cents.

Wellsville has beaten East Liverpool for the last three years, winning 6-0 in 1930, 12-0 in 1931 and 6-0 last season.

The Bengals play Tiltonville at Wellsville Saturday and then rest until Thanksgiving Day. The Potters rest this week-end, then meet Cleveland Holy Name on Nov. 25, with the Wellsville clash four days later.

Geneva in Title Scrap Saturday

Tackle Unbeaten Grove City Eleven At Beaver Falls.

BEAVER FALLS—The football championship of the Tri-State conference is the prize for the winner of Saturday's game at Reeves stadium involving the Covenanters of Geneva and the unbeaten Crimson Tide of Grove City. The kickoff is timed for 2:30.

Geneva has set aside this day as "Troiano Day" in honor of their midge skipper who is winding up a brilliant four year career in the conference. A special delegation of fans from Vandergrift, Pa., which is Troiano's home town, will be on hand to cheer for their favorite football player.

Not a single team has yet lowered the colors of the proteges of Bill Amos but Geneva believes it can turn the trick. However it is realized that the club must exhibit a change of form judging from the work in the last two games at which time losses were incurred against Davis - Elkins and St. Thomas.

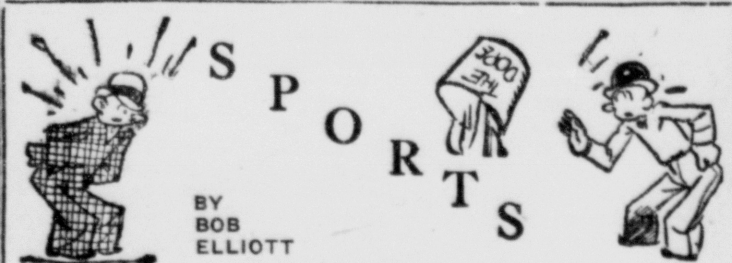

Geneva built an early lead in the conference and was looked upon as the kingpins after defeating the Waynesburg Yellow Jackets. Grove City started later, but her pathway to the top has been just as clean cut, the latest accomplishment being a 2-0 win over Waynesburg.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

CINCINNATI — Vincent Ham-bright, Cincinnati, outpointed Jackie Purvis, Indianapolis, (10); Paul Thobe, Covington, Ky., and Kid Wright, Richmond, Ind., drew, (6).

LAREDO, Tex.—Joe Ruz, 132, Yucatan, outpointed Johnny Cook, 136, New Orleans, (10).

RENO, Nev.—Al Gomes, 138, Sacramento, Calif., and Ernie Peters, 139, Reno, drew, (10); Lou Rogers, 147, San Diego, knocked out Jimmy Mello, 145, Oakland, (2).

Unless we miss our guess by the proverbial mile, Columbiana county is going to witness a red-hot battle for supremacy in high school basketball during the approaching season. Prospects at East Liverpool are the brightest in many seasons. Wellsville, with Dave Evans back at the coaching helm, and minus only one letterman from last year's fairly strong aggregation, is vying for the best Bengal quintet in many seasons. A new coach is ready to take charge at Salem and he has in Wayne Sidinger, a fine nucleus for a tough outfit. East Palestine and Lisbon will likely be weaker than the "big three" but still strong enough to win a few games. There'll be some tough battles before the 1933-34 county champion is found and we'd hate to wager much money in advance.

Herbert W. Brown, only 21 years old, is the new cage mentor at Salem. He was appointed assistant to Floyd Stone at the start of the present school year and his selection as head basketball coach occasioned no surprise. Brown is a resident of Dayton, where he starred for three years at Stivers high. He later went to Ohio State and played varsity ball, winning his letter. Brown has had candidates for the Quaker quint busy for the last three weeks in preparation for the tough 17-game schedule outlined for his boys. He didn't fare any too well with the schedule-maker for his team must face Wellsville in the opening tussle, December 15. Stone, who has coached Salem basketball teams for several seasons, will remain as assistant mentor to Brown.

Coach Tom Dixon of East Liverpool, although he'd be the last to admit the fact, is looking ahead of the county championship. Mr. Dixon is casting fond glances toward the district and state tournament next March and April. We'd hate to go as far as to put Tom "on the spot" by predicting he'll hit the state finals, but the local mentor certainly has some crack, veteran material available. Bill Booth is certain to be an improved center. Bill Laughlin, Bobby Stewart and Johnny Mackey are almost certain fixtures, along with Booth, before the season starts. Just about everything depends on Booth. If he's improved enough to become a distinct offensive threat, the Potters are going places and make no mistake about that. It looks like Tom's year and believe us there's no one rooting harder for the likeable Susquehanna grad than yours truly.

Some thoughts we've picked up here 'n' there—Wellsville will lose between $200 and $300 by not playing the Thanksgiving Day game at Patterson field—that Jack Buckler of Army and Herman Evarhardus of Michigan stand an excellent chance of being the halfbacks on most of the All-America teams—that Wellsville will NOT stop Bill Booth on Turkey Day—that Jimmy Aiken was the most worried man at Patterson field at the end of the first quarter of the East Liverpool-Canton game—that Johnny Ferraro's 95-yard punt for Cornell a couple of weeks ago is the longest boot of the season—that East Liverpool's 1934 football schedule will not look much like the present one—and that today would be one awful day to play a football game.

Races For Sectional Grid Honors Continue Saturday

Undeclared Oregon Ohio U Battles Cincinnati in Ohio Feature.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Although the contenders are fewer in numbers, the race for sectional and conference football championship goes on with undiminished vigor this week. In nearly every major conference except the Big Six, where Nebraska already has sewed up the title, Saturday's games will have important bearing on the titular races if they don't actually decide them.

Perhaps the best of the struggles is on the Pacific coast where Oregon, usually an outsider, is the ranking team. The Webfoots are unbeaten so far, with four conference victories, but it may be a different story after Saturday's clash with Southern California.

According to Lon Stiner, coach of the Oregon State team which lost its first game to Oregon before coming east to meet Fordham, the Webfoots are good but not good enough to beat Southern California.

The Big Ten and Rocky Mountain conference races are cut and dried affairs unless somebody should step up unexpectedly and beat Michigan or Utah. Despite four straight conference victories, Michigan faces a tough assignment in Minnesota this week and Northwestern the next. If Minnesota, already tied three times but unbeaten, should be the one to conquer Michigan, Purdue might be right up there to dispute the lead with the victors. The Boiler-makers have won two games and tied one in conference competition. They face Iowa this Saturday and Indiana next.

In the Rocky Mountain group, Utah has won four straight games and Denver and Colorado Aggies are credited with four victories and a tie apiece. The Utes, perennial champions, face their two rivals in order starting with Denver, Saturday.

Governor White Uses Cigar as Thermometer

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 16.—Gov. White's cigar is his "thermometer," he says, in the way of colds and such matters.

An inveterate cigar smoker, the governor says he can tell by the taste of the smoke whether or not he is coming down with the gripe. When the smoke tastes as usual, he's not alarmed, but when it's bitter, he gets busy with cold medicine.

"I should know," he said. "I've had the gripe seven or eight times, and it's worked on all occasions."

HELD IN CULVERT BYRON, Calif.—A Thanksgiving turkey jumped out of R. J. McDonald's automobile and ran through a cement culvert pipe. McDonald started through the pipe after the gobble, got about as far as his hips and then couldn't go forward or backward.

He told a truck driver who pulled him out he had been stuck there for hours—14 he said.

Bernard Universal Selection

Buckler, Crawford And Sauer Also Stand Out.

By ALAN GOULD,
Associated Press Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—It's nearly 10 years since the most famous exponent of the All-America died, Walter Camp, but there appears no less enthusiasm than ever in the rush now under way to paste the all-star football labels for 1933 on the standout players from coast to coast.

It's just an old American custom, the kind of an argument in which one and all can participate.

Key Flashes. Returns so far in the ninth annual Associated Press All-America consensus indicate observers have had more than usual difficulty making their choices and then making them stick. The competition seems to be so close and hard fought this year that there is little or no assurance that a star player will look like an All-American two weeks in a row.

Take a few examples: Cy Grant, the Georgia backfield star, came north heralded by many Dixie experts as the south's leading All-America candidate, yet it was his running mate, Homer Key, who starred in the Yale bowl. Mike Sebastian, elusive Pittsburgh back, has been "hot and cold" this season. A coast critic suggested Bill Corbush, Stanford guard, was below form this year, but a few days later he was winning the whole show in beating Southern California.

The reports nevertheless show a few standouts, for consistency as well as exceptional ability. They include Charles Bernard, Michigan center; Jack Buckler, triple-threat Army halfback; Fred Crawford, Duke tackle; and George Henry Sauer, Nebraska fullback.

Fans Wail. From many a gridiron sideline comes the plaintive "If this player was only on a big college, he would be a sure-fire All-American." The leading pro teams furnish evidence that this is probably true, but the old ballyhoo still plays a vital part in the business, to the distinct advantage of the major college performer who gets the headlines. For that matter, in nine cases out of 10, the so-called "big league" has to earn any all-star rating he receives and probably deserves it. The spotlight reveals shortcomings as well as successes.

The list of All-America candidates to date is by no means complete, but the following players have been most prominently mentioned in Associated Press returns: Ends: Smith, University of Washington; Petoskey, Michigan; Larson, Minnesota; Geisler, Centenary; Devre, Notre Dame; Manske, Northwestern; Skladany, Pittsburgh.

Tackles: Crawford, Duke; Harvey, Holy Cross; Wistert, Michigan; C. Jorgensen, St. Mary's; Gentry, Oklahoma; Fehring, Purdue; Ceppi, Princeton; Kilcullen, Yale.

Guards: Corbush, Stanford; Hupke, Alabama; Rosenberg, Southern California; Gallus, Ohio State; Burzio, Carnegie; Jablonisky, Army.

Centers: Bernard, Michigan; Youngest, Painesville; Coats, University of Wisconsin.

Western Reserve meets Oberlin, Alabama State will brave wintry blasts at Wilberforce, and the scarlet wave of Ohio State will roll into Wisconsin.

Pupils Invited To Grid Battle Will be Guests at Wooster-Denison Encounter.

WOOSTER—The oldest football rivalry in Ohio intercollegiate circles, which began in 1859, adds another chapter here Saturday when Denison and Wooster teams meet in Severance stadium at 2:15 p. m.

Wooster college authorities have invited students from nearly 200 high schools to visit Wooster's campus for the fourth annual high school day and more than 1,000 high school visitors are expected to witness the game.

Twenty-two games have been played between Denison and Wooster. The Scots have won 11, lost 8 and tied 3.

Eight Wooster players, all regulars, will see their last football in Severance stadium Saturday. They are Hal Pryor of Minerva, Don Bunting of Bedford and Don Hamilton of Connaught, backfield; George Weisenbach of Lakewood and Bob Sakerak of Cleveland, ends; Willard Nussbaum of Dalton, Bob Cracken of Smithfield, Pa., and Bob Miller, of Uniontown, guards.

Propose Baseball Changes

Two Score Amendments up for Consideration Today.

By The Associated Press.

GALVESTON, Tex., Nov. 16.—Two score proposed amendments to the constitution of the National Association of Professional Baseball league were to be considered at the 32nd annual convention today. And between second day sessions the swapping and selling of baseball talent was expected to continue as briskly as it started yesterday.

Galveston of the Texas league, made a 5 for one trade when it sent Keith Molesworth, shortstop, to Baltimore of the International league.

The executive committee, headed by William G. Bramham, of Durham, N. C., association president, has not yet decided on the many appeals brought before it.

The appeals involve Art Shires, Jim Lindsey, Charlie Wilson and Gordon Slade, who were fined and banished last year from the American Association for alleged violation of the salary limit rule.

Another is Harold Meyer, who has been suspended two years for alleged signing of a false affidavit and contract.

The Western league was definitely organized last night after an all-day and half the night meeting. Denver, Pueblo, Des Moines, Topeka, St. Joseph and Omaha were announced as ready to start the 1934 pennant race. There is a possibility that Sioux City and Lincoln will become members.

ROSS TO MEET SAMMY FULLER

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Tomorrow night will be homecoming for Barney Ross and the Chicago stadium where the world lightweight champion will meet Sammy Fuller of Boston in a 10-round battle. It will be Ross' first appearance in Chicago since he took the lightweight and junior lightweight titles away from Tony Conzoneri last June, and the stadium's first flat offering of the season. Although not particularly impressive in drills, the titleholder will go into action favored to defeat the tough Bostonian.

ATTENDANCE GAIN. COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 16.—The Ohio State university football team has played before 249,580 persons this season, 74,862 more than the entire 1932 season, and has two more games on its schedule.

"All the Fun Gone From Grid Game," Sighs Ohio State Chief

BY JAMES L. RENICK,
Associated Press Sports Writer.
COLUMBUS, Nov. 16.—A venerable man was sad today. "All the fun is gone from football," he sighed.

He was Dr. William Oxley Thompson, president emeritus of Ohio State university and for 26 years active head of the institution. Today he is reverently called "the grand old man of the campus."

"Just a Game." Dr. Thompson has seen Scarlet and Gray teams win and lose for more than a quarter of a century. Perhaps that is why he fails to be perturbed because of the 1933 eleven lost to Michigan, 13 to 0, and thereby created a howl heard from coast to coast.

"After all, it's just a game, isn't it?" He queried softly, as he gazed out the window on his snow-covered lawn.

"It's just a game, but they have taken all the fun out of it. It's an enterprise now. The time was when it was enough for our boys to go out on the field and do their best. If they won, that was good. If they lost, well, there was no disgrace in losing honorably in a good fight. It was all in the game. It wasn't a matter of life and death."

"But so much more is expected of our boys these days. It is not enough that they play their best. They must likewise fill the stadium with spectators and make the football season a financial success. It is not enough that they win a goodly percentage of their games. They must go undefeated. Such demands are too heavy to be laid on the shoulders of a group of lads, who, however eager and willing they may be, cannot regularly achieve the seldom possible."

"They Saw Good Game." It is Dr. Thompson's thought that the relationship built up between schools through football is one of the great battles of the game.

"Take our (Ohio State) fine relationship with Michigan, Illinois and other schools. That could have been built up no way except on the football field and now it seems to me that the very foundation of this relationship is being rocked with the avaricious desire to win, win, win."

"People say they must get their money's worth. If they go to a game and see two fine teams play a 7 to 6 game, they have seen a great football game. What does it matter which team won? Primarily they want to see a good game and that is what they saw."

"That would be the case, too, but—and here the eyes of the years have failed to dim, clouded suspiciously—"all the spectators at a football game are not true sportsmen satisfied with seeing a good contest. The gambling element has crept in. And there I believe you can place your finger on the real reason for all the din and noise for a consistently winning team."

Still His Boys. "I don't suppose there is a person in the world who enjoys a horse race any better than I, but I get my thrill from seeing the horses come into stretch, neck and neck with one nosing out the other by a few inches right at the wire. I don't have to bet on the race to enjoy it. My thrill comes from the closeness of the race. Football used to be that way, but it is no more I'm afraid."

Seventy-eight years old two weeks ago, Dr. Thompson still follows closely the fortunes of Ohio State on the gridiron. "You see," he explained, "they are still my boys, and I do wish they could get a little fun out of the game."

URGES SUPPORT FOR RED CROSS

Mrs. John Bowers Is Guest of Lions' Club.

The continuance of the public health nurse service in East Liverpool depends largely upon the outcome of this year's Red Cross roll call campaign. Mrs. John T. Bowers, secretary of the local Red Cross chapter, told members of the Lions club in an address at their weekly dinner-meeting in the Patterson memorial Wednesday night.

Mrs. Bowers urged support of the campaign, citing the work of the Red Cross here in recent years. She said in part:

"When I became secretary of the Red Cross in 1926, the local chapter had a reserve fund which enabled them to do a great deal of charitable work. At that time the Red Cross aided entire families, providing food, clothing and other necessities in many cases. At the present time, because of a scarcity of funds, our only project is the support of the public health nurse. Mrs. Jeannette Carpenter, "The Red Cross nurse—one-third of the expense of the public health nurse service. Thus we must raise more than $549 in the present campaign to take care of our portion of the expenses and insure continuance of the service next year."

"East Liverpool has been fortunate in the help it has received from the national Red Cross. Last year the national organization sent into the city from 44,000 to 45,000 yards of cotton material and about 8,000 ready-made garments, as well as thousands of sacks of flour for distribution among the needy."

"Distribution of the cloth and clothes was handled by the local chapter. Using a room in the Mary Patterson memorial, we installed 15 sewing machines and turned out thousands of garments. We also cut and prepared many more thousands of garments which were later sewed by needy women receiving them."

Mrs. Bowers lauded Mrs. Robert T. Hall for her work in connection with unemployment relief here last winter and praised the manner in which Rev. A. H. O'Brien is directing the present roll call.

CERMAK KIN IN KIDNAP PLOT

$63,000 Ransom Demanded of Former Mayor's Family.

By The Associated Press. MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 16.—Despite denials of the story from the child's mother, Dade county authorities today pushed an investigation into an alleged plot to kidnap the granddaughter of the late Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago. W. W. Wood, Miami politician, in a sworn statement to County Solicitor Fred Pine, said the alleged kidnapers demanded a total of $63,000 under threats to kidnap three-year-old Mary Alice Kenley, daughter of Mrs. Helen Cermak Kenley, of Chicago, and later threatened to kill the child, its mother and himself.

Pine further quoted Wood as saying he had already paid the alleged kidnapers $8,000.

From Chicago Mrs. Kenley denied her child had been threatened and said the story sounded like "attempts at some one to gain publicity." She said she had not paid any extortion money and that the whole thing sounded "a joke."

Pine made public Wood's statement when he filed an information in circuit court charging Gale Swalley with attempting to extort $13,000 from Wood and with attempting to kill him.

Swalley is being held by Chicago authorities in connection with recent kidnap plots.

75 ENROLLED BY RED CROSS

$128.35 Collected by Workers in Annual Roll Call Campaign Here Wednesday.

Red Cross workers, in their drive to enroll 1,800 members here added 75 names Wednesday and collected $128.35 in cash. Thirty-nine of the new members were enrolled by booth workers, who also obtained $11.50 in money, while 36 were listed by canvassers in three districts, who collected $86.85.

Wednesday night a total of 245 members and contributions amounting to $333.96 were reported for the first three days of the drive. The campaign will close Saturday night.

The booths are maintained in the postoffice, First National bank, Pottery Bank and Trust company and Ogilvie's store in East Fifth street, the Y. M. C. A. in East Fourth street, and the Federal Building and Loan company, Bradman store and Tice stores in Pennsylvania avenue, East End.

CONTINUES DOG RACES SEATTLE — Leonard Seppala, who won fame in 1925 in his dog team race across the wilderness to Nome, Alaska, carrying serum, still loves his dogs. "I'm nearer 60 than 50," he said, on arriving here from the north, "and I ought to be dropping out. But I'm heading for the east coast to take part in the dog races again this winter."

Outrageous Fortune

by Patricia Wentworth

SYNOPSIS: "Jimmy Riddell must be his name, because Nests Riddell tells him he is her husband—also that he has stolen the famous Van Berg emeralds, and shot Elmer Van Berg. All 'Jimmy' knows is that he woke up in a hospital, unable to remember anything behind that awakening. Now he has run away from Nests with very little money to go on; fragments from the past come to him, and to his horror, one shred of memory has to do with having drinks with Elmer Van Berg, and seeing the emeralds! Meanwhile, Caroline Leigh, who has failed in her attempt to see him, and is reading over some of his old letters.

Chapter 18
FOOTSTEPS APPROACH
That was the Christmas letter. Caroline answered it at once. She told him she was living with Patsy

Ann, and she told him just how dreary and lonely and neglected Hale Place was getting to look—woods in the drive, and green mould on the pineapples at the entrance—"and if you don't come home soon, Jim, the trees will meet across the drive. Aren't you ever coming home? I do so want you to come. Your loving Caroline."

She had always, signed like that to Jim from the time that she wrote him her very first letter when she was seven years old and he had sent her a doll for her birthday. It had real hair, and brown eyes that opened and shut. Jim was sixteen.

He wrote again in February. He was very hopeful about an invention of his. He couldn't tell her about it because it was all extremely confidential. Elmer Van Berg might back it. If he did, the thing was made.

He wrote at length about Elmer Van Berg, for whom he seemed to have a high admiration—"The brother is, he's interested in too many things. He takes turns at them. Whilst he's riding one, the others might as well be dead. Just as I thought I had brought my job off, his uncle, old Peter Van Berg, died and left him an extraordinary collection of jewels. Elmer's too busy with them to have time for me and my affairs."

There was a lot more about the Van Bergs. Susie Van Berg was awfully pretty, and awfully kind. They were great friends.

In March he wrote that the Van Bergs were coming to England for the summer—"Susie wants to go to Court in as many of old Peter Van Berg's jewels as possible."

After that there was nothing for a couple of months. Then he wrote again, still from New York. The Van Bergs were in England. He was half thinking of coming over after them. Susie thought it might be worth his while—she thought Elmer was working up for a change of hobbies. They had taken Packham Hall for the summer—"You might go over and call as it's so near."

Caroline had gone over to call with Patsy Ann; but it was June, and the Van Bergs were taking their London season very seriously and only coming down for weekends. Caroline and Patsy had been asked to lunch on a Sunday—and of course it had to be just that one particular Sunday which Robert Arbuthnot had already commandeered. He was a distant cousin of Patsy's, a still more distant cousin of Caroline's, and trustee to both of them. He was an able lawyer and a blinding bore.

call a letter; just half a dozen lines, all scrawled in a hurry. "I may be able to get off on the 8th if Grace can still have me. I shall probably take a steamer up to coast."

And that was all. It might have been written to a Mere Acquaintance. It wasn't the kind of a letter to be Jim's last letter to his loving Caroline. It gave her a very desolate, grey, hopeless feeling. It made her feel, quite illogically, that Jim was drowned. The Alice Arden had sailed on the eighth of August and had gone to bits on the Elston rocks.

That was a very frightening thing to hear. It seemed to make it certain that Jim had sailed on the Alice Arden. A cold shiver passed over Caroline. She put the letter together again with hands that moved a little stiffly. When she went over to put them away the room felt very cold.

She drew a sobbing breath as she shut the drawer. It felt as if she were shutting Jim away. The

A cold shiver passed over Caroline.

Caroline maintained that he only came to see them when he had something unpleasant to impart with regard to their investments. On this occasion he left Patsy the poorer by about twenty pounds a year, and made it impossible for Caroline to meet the Van Bergs.

In July Caroline went north to visit her father's sister, who kept open house every year in the Highlands. It was while she was at Craigellachie that Jim wrote to say he was in London. He was given a warm invitation to join Mrs. Ogilvie's party.

Caroline passed quickly over the time when they waited for his answer. He would come—of course he would come. They would go for tremendously long walks, and tell each other all the things that you couldn't put into letters.

If he got Aunt Grace's letter on Wednesday morning he might catch the night train and come right through. Caroline had gone about in a queer warm dream of happiness which it hurt her to think about now.

Because Jim hadn't come. He hadn't written for three days, and then it was just a few lines to Grace Ogilvie. He thanked her very much, and he hoped perhaps he might be able to get up later on, but just at the moment he was afraid he couldn't spare the time. He didn't write to Caroline at all, not until the beginning of August, and then it wasn't what you could tears began to run down her face, and all at once she couldn't bear the light any more. It is only happy people who want to stand in the light. Caroline pushed down the switch, and was glad of the dark.

She cried bitterly, crouching down by the bed and pressing her face into the pillow lest Patsy Ann should hear. Patsy had come upstairs and was moving about in the room across the tiny landing. Caroline cried all her tears away. She had held them in for a long time; now they were all gone, and she felt rather like a ghost, weak and light and insubstantial.

She went to the window and opened it.

Something in Caroline's mind said quickly, "It's no good crying over spilled milk." She thought that was very odd.

She leaned out farther. A faint damp breath moved the trees across the road. Over the edge of the silence came the sound of footsteps coming nearer.

Tomorrow, Caroline tangles herself in a strange adventure.

ROOSEVELT TO MEET WELLES

President to Confer With Ambassador to Havana Over Situation in Cuba.

By The Associated Press.
HAVANA, Nov. 16.—Keen interest was manifested by both Cubans and Americans here today in reported arrangements for United States Ambassador Sumner Welles to confer with President Roosevelt.

Here in a trying period, the American ambassador has been attacked from many sides, but all has not been criticism and those favoring the manner in which he has conducted his affairs in a critical situation have been outspoken in their praise.

Today, as word of continued disorders reached the capital from the interior, two aviators—Homobono Rodriguez and Basilio Gonzales—awaited a decision by the Cuban cabinet which will mean life or death to them.
